Title: SPECIAL SESSION: Open Education Resources: What Are They? How Do We Use Them in Nursing Education?

Keywords: Creative commons, OERS and educational strategies

Description/Overview: Increasingly students indicate they can no longer bear the cost burden of course textbooks. Open Education Resources (OERs) are an alternate delivery method that considers diverse learner needs. Learn more about OERs, the current research on the use of OERs, and strategies for using OERs in the classroom.

References:
- Vojtech, G., & Grissett, J. (2017). Student perceptions of college faculty who use OER. International Review of Research in Open and Distributed Learning, 18, 155-171

Organizer
Karen H. Morin, PhD, RN, ANEF, FAAN
University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee
Professor Emerita,
Kalamazoo MI
USA

Author Summary: Karen Morin is Professor Emeritus, the University of Wisconsin – Milwaukee where she served as PhD program director, and Major Professor. Dr. Morin has held teaching positions at the University of Alabama at Birmingham, Thomas Jefferson University, Widener University, the Pennsylvania State University, and Western Michigan University. She has extensive experience in nursing education, having taught students at all levels. She has published and presented nationally and internationally.