As a result of having intervened in female new face nurses with the low back pain by the ‘SHISEI’ meta-cognition educational program, the low back pain was improved if they were recognizable when low back pain was biopsychosocial sharp pain syndrome.