

Learning Activity:

LEARNING OBJECTIVES	EXPANDED CONTENT OUTLINE
1) Learners will be able to explain the three components of the PRECEDE model related to risk behaviors for exposure to endocrine disruptors	The components of PRECEDE model contains predisposing factors, reinforcing factors, and enabling factors.
2) Learners will be able to describe the most significant factors associated with risk behaviors for exposure to endocrine disruptors.	The most significant factor associated with risk behaviors for exposure to endocrine disruptors is 'need for information on endocrine disruptors', one of the reinforcing factors.