

Learning Activity:

LEARNING OBJECTIVES	EXPANDED CONTENT OUTLINE
The learner will be able to critically reflect on the research evidence underpinning the use of intentional rounding to improve patient outcomes in acute care settings	The paper will systematically review the evidence reported in research studies that explored the impact of intentional rounding on falls, patient satisfaction, call bell use in acute care settings.
The learner will gain an enhanced understanding of the impact of intentional rounding on complex workforce outcomes associated with the implementation of intentional rounding	The paper will explore the impact of intentional rounding on nurses satisfaction, attitudes and working practices as reported in published research studies.