

Learning Activity:

LEARNING OBJECTIVES	EXPANDED CONTENT OUTLINE
The learner will be able to discuss the support required by nurses when mentoring student nurses across community- and hospital-based settings.	The content will include the results of a qualitative study, which explored how community- and hospital-based nurses supported student nurses across these settings, with an explanation of both barriers and facilitators.
The learner will be able to discuss the different strategies applied by community- and hospital-based nurses when mentoring students to implement evidence-based practice.	The content will include a recently published literature review (2016), which explored attitudes and beliefs of evidence-based practice across community- and hospital-based nurses, and the results of a qualitative study exploring how nurses support student nurses to implement evidence-based practice across these settings.
The learner will be able to discuss training models for qualified nurses to mentor/support student nurses in clinical placements, with an emphasis on implementation of evidence-based practice.	The content will include conclusions from the literature review and qualitative study, but also an interactive discussion to develop thinking on closing the theory and practice gap through mentoring.
