Objectives

Participants will be able to:

• Identify transition process to complete one cycle of mentoring and to initiate a new cycle.

• Describe how findings from surveys and reflections can be used in developing the next community cycle.

• Identify challenges and opportunities for future development of this and other global leadership mentoring communities in nursing.

• Generate suggestions from the first years’ experience that could be used in planning other global leadership mentoring experiences.
Overview

• Reflection/Transition
• Summary of Findings
• Challenge of community: Active involvement
• Model for the GLMC
  • Person-centered--making meaning to be the best at their stage of leadership development
  • Community-centered--community engagement with each other
• Suggestions for global interactions
  • How to improve structure to enhance community

STTI Biennial 2015 GLMC
End of the year survey

• 9 Mentors & 11 Mentees completed

• Questions:
  • Are there any things we should consider in moving forward?
  • Are there any culturally significant issues we should address in the future?
  • Have your perspectives of global leadership changed?
  • What are your recommendations or suggestions for the future?

• Discussions
Primary Finding

• Keep it going!
  • Learned so much
  • Outcomes reflected degree of effort and engagement
  • International friendships unique
  • Global leadership has many commonalities across regions
  • Areas to develop
Engagement

• Professional engagement of the mentor and mentee is the heart of the community

• Commitment: “Get a firm commitment for monthly meetings”

• Reality issues: “Make the expectations of the community more clear upfront”
Strengthening the network

• Consistency is needed in group calls and following through with monthly calls and notes.
  • Discussion--should we keep the notes? “Make note taking optional”
  • Communications could include a follow-up email--track their own, not share until at end, final summation. This gives each pair the option to reflect on growth.
  • Keep obligation on both: “Mentees and Mentors need to invest their time and energy”
  • Share at end of the year.
GLMC: Consisted of 22 members

- Discussion - 153
- Library - 138
- Events - 1

- Minutes from group calls - 5
- Articles on Mentoring - 3
- Biosketches & photos - all
- Mentor & Mentee notes - 54
- Sustainable development goals - 2
- Leadership & development goals - 2
• Using the The Circle required both orientation and effort to use. Discussion forums went out by email but were not always used fully.

• Resources and library for uploading bios & notes were good but took time to master. New ways to make the platform more central are needed.
Example of topics discussed in monthly mentor-mentee meetings...

• Professional and personal goals
• Teaching experiences
• Leadership characteristics
• Leadership communication
• Conflict management
• Nature of the RNs role globally

Example of topics discussed in group call meetings...

• What is the Global Leadership Mentoring Community?
• What are the expectations of members?
• Members each shared their ideas about leadership and mentoring
• Report on interactions/work done with mentor
• Biennial Convention
• Future of this community
• Global perspectives discussion with nurse leader Past-President Hester Klopper
Suggestions for new opportunities & outcomes/products

• Regional meetings, internships, exchanges: This would allow for Face-2-Face meetings with individuals, but could lose pairing across global regions.
• Collaborative project: Research proposal or manuscript
• Biennial Convention Meeting: STTI Chapter, region, or international support
Additional comments/suggestions...

• “Keep the community going. It has potential to support the development of partnerships that could shape the future of nursing.”
• “Wish more people can get the benefit as what I experienced.”
• “I'd be happy to contribute to an element of organization or facilitating a discussion or similar so that the load is shared and I'm not expecting it all to be done by someone else.”
• “We need direction for how to proceed when you feel lost: Increase group calls to share common experience.”
Purposes – How did we do?

1. To facilitate leadership development for global nursing through a sustainable process of mentoring emerging leaders.
2. To build capacity for leadership across STTI Global Regions.
3. To engage emerging nurse leaders on topics of global health and nursing leadership.

1. Created a substantive global mentoring process, supported by STTI and The Circle technology, building relationships
2. The program strengthened and reinforced leadership development for STTI at chapter & international levels
3. Beginning discussions of global health and leadership issues—more is needed.

To Be Determined: Sustainability and Expansion
Goals for the future

• What types of global nurse leaders are needed in the 21st century?
• How can the GLMC encourage mentee development towards the direction of becoming a global leader?
• How can GLMC facilitate a higher level of involvement in STTI activities in chapter, region, and international levels?
